International Chemical Control Laws

Monday, March 24, 2014
Charleston Marriott – Charleston, SC

Course Description

This course is designed to give overviews of various international chemical control laws. In particular, it will focus on chemical inventories, notification procedures for new chemicals, restrictions on import or export of chemicals, and other related matters. There will be overviews of systems in Canada, Europe, Japan, South Korea, Australia, Philippines and China with a focus on analogies to the US Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). The course will address differences in chemical inventories, timelines and requirements for notification of new substances, restrictions of which to be aware, US import and export issues, as well as impacts on MSDSs and labels.

TOPICS TO BE COVERED

- Relevant laws and regulations and the responsible agencies
- Chemical inventory and registration procedures of new chemicals
- Timing, logistics and potential exemptions
- Import and export requirements
- Enforcement and penalties
