Each year, we take advantage of our close proximity to the industry leaders and decision-makers in the Washington, D.C. area to host our Fall Meeting in Arlington, Virginia. It's a hub for influence and entertainment, easy to travel to, and bustling with opportunities. Hundreds of HazCom-industry members travel from around the world to learn, network, and grow our mission.

We invite you to join us as a sponsor to showcase your work to a receptive audience. Sponsorships are an important way to share innovative products and services that may impact millions.

The President's luncheon and exhibit night are prime ways to meet the newest members of SCHC. These individuals may be just beginning their path in their industry or they may be finding new benefits to membership.

Exhibit nights are open to everyone, those new to the field and those with vast experience including industry leaders who are part of private, public, and government sectors.

SCHC has a 40-year history in the Washington, D.C. area with long-standing relationships and connections to industry-related leaders and regulatory agencies.

Sponsor participation is highlighted in our professional development courses, the general meeting, and networking events to provide multiple impressions for our attendees, instructors, Board Members, and guests.

Sponsorships are important because they facilitate SCHC's ability to hold two annual meetings each year and off-set the rising costs of new technologies, like the ability to record and stream the Fall meeting to distance learners.

Sponsors help us to connect and engage our more than 4,000+ member base, potential members, leaders and decision makers. Sponsors also help us to fulfill our mission and continue our commitment to stewardship and safety.

Arlington and the greater D.C. area are destination hot spots. With night life and national treasures around the corner, it's no wonder people enjoy attending the Fall event. The Crystal Gateway Marriott is a quick six minute drive to the National Mall.

September will be here before you know it, and it is important to complete your sponsorship before September 1, 2019 so that we have ample time to properly include you in our recognition and marketing efforts. Please complete the registration form available on www.schc.org.

Ready to begin the form? Be prepared with information about your organization (including a high resolution logo) and the contact information of the registrant who will be utilizing the sponsor's included spot.

Elevating your status is an easy way to increase your visibility at the Fall meeting. We encourage all of our sponsors to spread the news of their involvement with our global-reaching society.

I always have a great time at the SCHC Meetings. It's a joy seeing old friends and making new friends.

The Fall and Spring Meetings provide opportunities to update yourself with the latest information from the people who are writing and implementing the rules.

Networking is another major benefit to attending the meetings."
